

Pappas Telecasting's decision to "donate" 325K to Republican candidates and causes without giving equal time to the opposition is a violation of their duty to uphold the public trust. Pappas uses our airways for free and they have an obligation to give equal time. This is another disturbing consequence of increased corporate control of the airways and lack of regulation by your organization. Democracy is only as strong as its foundation and you are failing in your role to keep the marketplace of ideas viable. I strongly object to policies that promote the increased concentration of large corporate ownership of the media.
